Dear Customer,

Please be advised Koehler Paper is announcing a global price increase of 10% for all thermal paper grades and applications. This announcement effects shipments to the US and Canada markets occurring April 1, 2026.

Our business is experiencing strong upward cost pressure across a range of key inputs for the production of thermal paper. Freight and distribution costs are also increasing. Despite ongoing intensive efforts to offset these shifts, passing through the increase is necessary so we can maintain reliable supply of our complete range of phenol free, developer free and bpa free thermal paper grades.

We appreciate your ongoing support for our products.

Sincerely,

Steve
